

EVALUARE

1. Relatați despre adaptarea studenților la mediul universitar.

2. Traduceți următoarele fraze în limba română:

1. The process of a student adapting to a new environment begins from the moment they enter the university.
2. First-year students, upon entering the university, leave their previous social circle and begin to lead an independent life.
3. To adapt quickly to the university, it is necessary to understand the internal structure of the institution and participate in the events it organizes.
4. Positive emotions also contribute to faster adaptation; these are created by various structural units of the university to facilitate cooperation between first-year students and participants in the educational process.
5. Volunteering, sports and recreational activities, and creative work take place outside the academic curriculum.
6. The adaptation process consists of four stages: the adaptation period, the orientation period, the period of actual adaptation, and the period in which everything becomes normalized.
